

TES Headteacher of the Year Award 2015

Curwen Executive Head is one of eight finalists

Executive Headteacher of Curwen Primary and Nursery School, Paul Harris, has been shortlisted as one of eight finalists for the TES Headteacher of the Year Award.

Paul Harris believes that the school's motto 'Together We Achieve More' fully explains the success and says: "I am lucky enough to have a great team to work with and particularly proud and delighted that the school has been recognised in this way".

The Award celebrates "inventive and inspirational" Headteachers who provide schools with great leadership.

Andi Smith, Chair of Governors at Curwen and National Leader of Governance, says: "When Paul Harris took over the headship back in 2006, Curwen was deemed to be one of the lowest performing schools in the country but is now quite rightly recognised as an outstanding school and one of the borough's big success stories. Paul has an infectious love and passion for learning and always demonstrates integrity and honesty in his work. I count him as our most valuable asset".

Jack Petchey Award for Basketball star

St Bonaventure's Hadrian Basilio spends prize money on team

St Bonaventure's pupil, Hadrian Basilio, 14, has been awarded the Jack Petchey Award for the pivotal role he plays in the school's basketball team.

PE Teacher, Jon Robinson, who nominated Hadrian, said: "Hadrian plays a pivotal role in our Basketball Team. He is dedicated and always does his best to spur on the team, encourage them and get the best out of them. He played a key role in securing the win against The City of Leicester Academy in The National Schools Basketball Championship in London in May this year which made St Bonaventure's the National Under 14 Champions - a tremendous achievement. He is accepting this award on behalf of the whole team."

Hadrian spent his £200 award money on a celebratory meal for the whole basketball team.
