

Secretary of State for Education visits Upton Cross

Newham school has partnered with the Place2Be charity

Last week, the Secretary of State for Education, Nicky Morgan, visited Upton Cross Primary School to find out more about the work of Place2Be.

Place2Be is the school's counselling service, providing support to the children.

"I welcomed the opportunity to hear about the school's work with Place2Be... I was really impressed by the confidence shown by the pupils and it was fantastic to hear them talk so positively about Place2Be and the support that the charity has given them. I thoroughly enjoyed the classroom observations and I particularly enjoyed chatting to the very knowledgeable and inquisitive pupils in the final class—they asked me some great questions." Wrote Nicky Morgan in a letter thanking the school for hosting her.

Eleanor Smith conquer Mount Snowdon

School makes 10th annual visit to mountain

Eleanor Smith School made its 10th annual visit to Snowdonia National Park to tackle Mount Snowdon.

Through Eleanor Smith's Thrive approach, eight pupils were chosen to attend the visit, with six supporting staff members. The whole group successfully managed to walk to the summit of Mount Snowdon, the highest mountain in Wales.

Alongside walking up Mount Snowdon, the group also participated in climbing and bouldering activities and Bounce Below. Steve Hare, Residential Visits Co-ordinator at the school, expanded: "Imagine giant trampolines, walkways, slides and tunnels all made from netting. Now picture this suspended in a slate cavern hidden underground and you'll have the right idea. Adults emerge from Bounce Below grinning from ear to ear. It literally brings out the kid in everyone."

Eleanor Smith adopted the Thrive approach to fulfil its aim of creating successful children who engage better in their learning and gain skills for future successes in society. Thrive builds children's social and emotional resilience and draws upon the latest research in brain development. It recognizes the importance of strong relationships between pupils, parents, families and staff. In developing the student's resilience it helps enable them in mainstream education, and the world of work and life.

Awards for Elmhurst News Team

Burnet News Club members learn what it takes to be journalists

A news team from Elmhurst school have been recognised for their work as part of the Burnet News Club (BNC).

Earlier this year the team won an award for outstanding critical thinking from The Economist Educational Foundation and more recently an avid blogger in the Elmhurst team, Nousheen Islam, won a personal award for her inspiring post about who she thought would make the best politician - her mum. The BNC were so impressed with her 'Perfect Politician' blog they invited her to do a reading at Buckingham Palace. Her post will also be showcased at the end of year celebration at the News Show at the Southbank Centre along with a range of other inspiring work created from the BNC across London.

Burnet News Club is a place for young journalists to form opinions, listen to others and get their voices heard. It is a project run by The Economist Educational Foundation. Each term the news team are given a topic to research: They bring their thoughts together and share their opinions with schools from around London on a live blog.

This year, 16 year five students from Elmhurst Primary School have shaped the BNC news team. They've worked together to research and blog about current affairs. They have commented on the Ebola crisis, the rising prices in energy and the affect this is having in the UK as well as the general election. They have also explored the voting system and understood their role in shaping the future world for generations to come.

State of education

Last week's education announcements

On Wednesday 8th July, Chancellor of the Exchequer, George Osborne gave his Budget to Parliament. Among its terms:

Maintenance grants – Maintenance grants will be replaced with maintenance loans, which will rise for students from low and middle income backgrounds to up to £8,200 a year and be paid back when recipient's earnings exceed £21,000 a year

Student loans – The government will consult on freezing the loan repayment threshold to bring it more into line with the government's long-term cost of borrowing

Teaching quality – Institutions offering high teaching quality will be allowed to increase their tuition fees in line with inflation

Youth Obligation – 18 to 21 year olds on Universal Credit will be expected to apply for an apprenticeship or traineeship, gain work based skills, or go on a mandatory work placement

Apprenticeships levy – The government will introduce a levy on large UK employers to increase the number of apprenticeship starts

Childcare – the government will extend the free childcare entitlement to 30 hours a week for working parents of three and four year olds

Then on Thursday 9th July Nick Gibb, Minister of State for Education, spoke about the purpose of education at the Education Reform Summit.

The Minister said: "Three purposes - empowering young people to succeed in the economy, participate in culture, and leave school prepared for adult life - have consistently guided our programme of reform".

NPW, managing recruitment on behalf of Newham Schools

Schools ICT Learning and Resources Manager

Newham Partnership Working

£33,846 to £36,669 (PO3)

Location: London Borough of Newham
Preferred Hours: 36 Hours per week
Vacancy Type: Permanent
Closing Date: Ongoing

This role will also include entitlement to the following additional benefits:

- Invitation to join a cash benefits scheme – saving you money on all of your medical expenses
- Advantage card – saving you money with access to over 2,000 discount, cashback and voucher partners
- Local Government Pension Scheme
- Recognised Local Government Continual Service

We are keen to appoint an experienced and highly motivated ICT Learning and Resources Manager to play a significant part in providing an excellent and effective ICT service to the school. This is a new and exciting role, established to support teaching and learning by developing and implementing ICT resources to enhance and support teaching, learning and management activities within the school setting. The role will also involve facilitating ICT training for school staff and occasionally working with parents and children in school activities.
Key Requirements:

Experience of supporting teachers in an ICT context.
Familiarity with RM CC3 or CC4 networks.
A calm, methodical and logical approach to ICT problem solving with good trouble shooting skills.
An understanding of teacher lesson planning and the requirement for efficient and smooth running of ICT in lesson delivery.
Must have a flexible and positive approach to tasks and excellent communication skills

Newham Partnership Working (NPW) is a mutual organisation formed by Newham schools and composed of education providers and staff. Our objective is to make this 'learning community' outstanding by providing and commissioning high quality services for schools.

NPW currently support over 100 schools, both within Newham and its surrounding boroughs, with a comprehensive range of high quality and reliable services. Our support removes the external pressures that our school leaders face, allowing them to focus on their core purpose - education.

Please apply online at www.londonschooljobs.co.uk Ref: 1541
Applications for the post is by official application form only, no CVs please.

Please note that this role has a two stage interview selection process. If you are successful at stage one, you will then be asked to attend an interview with the Head Teacher of a designated school.
